HUMAN RESOURCES ADMINISTRATION

AGENCY MISSION

Meeting Clients Where They Are

The Human Resources Administration enhances the quality of life for all New Yorkers by providing temporary help to eligible individuals and families with social service and economic needs in order to assist them in leading independent lives. These goals are accomplished through the effective administration of a broad range of social welfare programs and services.

AGENCY OVERVIEW

The New York City Human Resources Administration (HRA) spearheads New York City's Welfare Reform initiatives, and serves a diverse group of New Yorkers through a wide range of social service programs. HRA's mission is to make work central in the lives of every able-bodied New Yorker receiving public assistance. HRA's programs also ensure that those needy individuals who meet eligibility requirements are provided food, shelter, temporary financial assistance, medical care, counseling, and other essential services.

Federal and State welfare reform has prompted a new model for the public assistance system. Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) has been replaced by Temporary Assistance to Needy Families (TANF) which focuses on work and personal responsibility. The federal Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996 replaced the welfare programs that were part of Title IV of the Social Security Act of 1935. The new federal welfare reform laws limit cash assistance to a lifetime of five (5) years for U.S. citizens and mandates that recipients participate in a work-related activity within two years of their entry into the program.

New York State's welfare reform incorporates the provisions of the federal welfare reform program with additional requirements for providing assistance, and creates a Safety Net program, which provides cash and non-cash assistance to those not eligible for federal benefits.

HRA's Job Centers reflect both a philosophical commitment to self-sufficiency and a programmatic effort to emphasize the essential role of work in our lives. The goal of Job Centers is to:

- Emphasize personal responsibility for obtaining employment and achieving independence.
- Provide access to resources and community services that support participants' efforts towards economic independence.
- Create an environment conducive to participants' achievement of financial independence.
- Treat participants in a respectful, courteous and professional manner.
- Meet participants' emergency and temporary financial needs, while supporting their efforts to obtain a job and achieve financial independence.

The ultimate goal of Job Centers and the HRA employment programs is to assist public assistance recipients in obtaining unsubsidized employment as quickly as possible.

For those with the ability to become self-sufficient, HRA provides temporary supports including: temporary public assistance, food stamps, health benefits, childcare, adult protective services and eviction prevention.

For New Yorkers who require long term support to live independently, HRA provides housing support, home care and long term care for the elderly and disabled, and counseling and housing support for people with HIV and AIDS.

The Human Resources Administration is committed to being a model social service agency that maximizes individual self-sufficiency, familial responsibility and community involvement.

The Human Resources Administration Program Areas

The Human Resources Administration (HRA) assists individuals and families in achieving and sustaining their maximum degree of self-sufficiency. HRA provides temporary assistance and employment services or referrals at 34 Job Centers of which 8 are Model Offices designed to streamline workflow and enhance access to services. HRA also offers public health insurance at 19 Medicaid Community Offices (all are Model Offices) and food stamps at 30 offices. Support services to individuals with AIDS and HIV-related illnesses are provided through 12 centers (6 Model Offices); protective services to adults through 5 HRA borough offices and 4 contracted programs; and services to victims of domestic violence through 38 state-licensed residential programs, 15 nonresidential programs, and various HRA programs. HRA determines the home care eligibility of disabled or frail Medicaid recipients through 9 Community Alternative Systems Agency offices, contracts with 95 home care provider agencies, and assists New York City families in obtaining support orders and receiving child support payments at 4 borough and 5 Family Court offices.

Family Independence Administration (FIA)

Workers at FIA's Job Centers determine and monitor customers' eligibility for public assistance, food stamps, Medicaid and childcare services. They help people get on the road to self-sufficiency by connecting them to job search, job placement, vocational, educational and training services appropriate for their work histories and skills, and provide access to transitional benefits. To help families make the transition from welfare to work, HRA provides transitional food stamps, Medicaid and subsidized childcare for eligible public assistance families and applicants.

Domestic Violence and Emergency Intervention (ODVEIS)

The Office of Domestic Violence and Emergency Intervention Services (ODVEIS) provides social services and emergency shelter for victims of domestic violence. ODVEIS directly operates one emergency domestic violence shelter, administers 38 state-licensed emergency residential programs and oversees private customer referrals for seven transitional housing programs. In addition, the Office of Emergency Intervention Services (OEIS) includes Crisis and Disaster Services, which responds to citywide emergencies such as hurricanes and snow storms; the Heatline, Utility Assistance program and the federally funded Home Energy Assistance Program, which provide energy related services to low income households; and the Emergency Food Assistance Program, which supplements the food supply in nearly 600 food pantries and soup kitchens citywide.

Medical Insurance and Community Services Administration (MICSA)

The Medical Insurance and Community Services Administration (MICSA) is an umbrella organization that oversees and manages the operations of five component organizations. These organizations include:

Medical Assistance Programs (MAP): There are currently four different public health insurance programs available in New York State. These include Medicaid, Child Health Plus, Family Health Plus and the Family Planning Benefit Program.

Home Care Services Program (HCSP): HCSP provides home attendants, housekeepers, home health aides and long-term home health care for medically needy customers.

Adult Protective Service (APS): APS assists adults who, because of mental or physical disabilities, are unable to manage their own resources, carry out the activities of daily living, or protect themselves from neglect or hazardous situations; and have no one available who is willing and able to responsibly assist them.

HIV/AIDS Services Administration (HASA): HASA provides essential services and benefits to individuals with AIDS and symptomatic HIV illness and their families. The goal is to enable customers to manage the illness and live their lives with the fullest independence possible. HASA provides an integrated network of housing services, including securing emergency housing and securing permanent supportive housing. The Housing Unit also facilitates all HASA referrals made to the New York City Housing Authority to ensure priority status and placement.

Non-Public Assistance Food Stamp Program (NPA/FS): The NPA/FS program that falls under MICSA specializes in dealing with disabled, unemployable food stamp recipients.

Customized Assistance Services (CAS)

Customized Assistance Services (CAS) is a specialized office that provides direct services and clinical expertise in the areas of health, mental health, substance abuse and vocational rehabilitation to HRA's other program components. CAS has several functional units including the Visiting Psychiatric Service, the Placement Assessment and Client Tracking Unit, the Office of Rehabilitation Services and the Office of Clinical and Service Systems Integration.

Office of Child Support Enforcement (OCSE)

The Office of Child Support Enforcement (OCSE) helps ensure that non-custodial parents provide financial support for their children. Services are provided to Public Assistance and non-Public Assistance parents regardless of income. Assistance is available to locate non-custodial parents, establish paternity and child support orders, and collect and enforce payments. In addition, OCSE is committed to partnerships with community-based programs that assist low-income fathers to meet their child support obligations through employment opportunities.

Explanation of Indicators

CENSUS DATA

The source for the 2000 Census demographic and socioeconomic data is New York City's Department of City Planning.

PROGRAM DATA

Included for New York City, each borough and each community district is the data relating to Public Assistance, Food Stamps, Medicaid, and SSI programs as of October 2005. The geographic breakdowns are based on address information provided by clients. As of October 2005, the methodology for calculating the community district data has changed and should not be used to compare data from prior years.

DIRECT SERVICE OFFICES

The direct service offices run by HRA program areas are broken down by borough and community district. Identified is the community district of their location although many of the direct service offices serve multiple community districts and/or multiple boroughs.

CONTRACT SERVICES - Planned for fiscal year 2006 (As of August 2005)

The DRS includes a list of human service contracts based on the Contractor's address. Information for these contracts includes type of service, contractual dates, contractor's name and address and contract amount.

(Contract addresses may not represent the areas served by the contract since the address may only be an administrative address and many contracts serve multiple community districts, as well as multiple boroughs.)
